April 10, 2003 LB 265A, 265

let you know that there are law enforcement groups out there who are opposed to this bill. And I just got a letter this morning, and you probably all got it too, which says that the Nebraska Sheriffs' Association voted today to oppose LB 265 that allows the carrying of a concealed weapon in Nebraska. And I'm reading this for the first time. The vote was taken at the association's regular monthly membership meeting today in Lincoln. Sheriffs' Association members feel LB 265 is not workable, and is overly burdensome, because sheriffs have to determine sufficient eyesight if the applicant does not have a driver's license, whether the applicant has been subject of a mental health proceedings in Nebraska or another state, whether the applicant is habitually intoxicated or drugged, among other things. The Omaha World-Herald's report that the association was neutral on Tuesday, April 8, was accurate at that time. And it's signed by Rick Boucher, lobbyist for the Sheriffs' Association. In addition to that, I got an e-mail last week from a...the president of the Nebraska Fraternal Order of Police. And I don't know if you remember, but on the floor I was speculating about why the police may have gone neutral on this bill this year when they've always been opposed before. And then at that point, of course, that neutralizes them after they've been successful in putting in some education requirements and all of that kind of thing. And that was scoffed at on this floor, that particular reasoning. And you know, I had no way of knowing if it was accurate or not. That was speculation on my part. But I got an e-mail that said: dear Senator Schimek, your ideas on why law enforcement, at least the Fraternal Order of Police, took the position it has is correct. If it is going to pass, we want to have as much input as we can to make it safer for law enforcement officers on the street. Thanks. Steve Grabowski, president, Nebraska Fraternal Order of Police. And I did ask him if I could use this on the floor, and he responded yes. So I do think there is...there are law enforcement organizations who are very, very nervous about this bill, and in my opinion, with complete justification. So Senator Chambers, I didn't think this was really going to come up for discussion until we got back to the bill. But I guess it
